DR. HOGEBOOM REPLIES.

He Answers Statements Made by George Emerson of Winfield.

SIR:—While I never paid any attention to the published rantings of a madman, I cannot, however, refrain in this instance from calling your attention to an article in your last evening's issue, headed, "A Hot Correspondence," and to kindly request you to publish the extract from the said correspondence, (the whole of which I assume you have before you) wherein I "recommended" or even directed, or requested "George Emerson" to "use or prescribe cheap medicines."

You will find the recommendation as follows: "You must either change druggists, or change the expenses of your prescriptions." I think this all and nothing more, as I cannot find upon careful inspection of the correspondence upon this subject, extending back to nearly the date of "George Emerson's" first appointment as local surgeon, one word or intimation of instructions to use cheaper or inferior medicines or remedies.

Now, I trust you will note, as well as the readers of the JOURNAL, as well might have "George Emerson," had his mental faculties been in "conditio naturalis," that there is quite a difference in the price of four ounces and eight ounces, compounded from the same, and very best of medicines; also the same ratio exists between a dose or two of compound cathartic pills, or a box of the same remedy, made from the very best selected medicines, and I would remark right here, that to deal justly by each and every employe, it requires considerable care to prevent the injustice of a few that would appropriate more than is necessary to themselves, through the leniency or want of care of the local surgeon.

Now, the fact is, I have always insisted, as well in my administration of the affairs of the Hospital association, as in my private practice, on using the very best of medicines. This is admitted without question among druggists where I am known, as well as among my patrons.

I have always maintained, and do now, that it is a great misfortune for any one to be necessitated to take medicines at all, but when so necessitated, that he should have, whether high or low, rich or poor, the very best to be had, if possible, as well as compounded by unquestionable talent.

A few years ago because of insisting upon the above principle, I was very nearly caused to sever my connections with the association.

Yours very truly,
 GEO. W. HOGEBOOM.

The correspondence referred to by Dr. Hogeboom is very long, and would fill at least four columns of the STATE JOURNAL. This paper published only a few extracts. They were sufficient to show Dr. Emerson of Winfield to be a very foolish, excitable person. His remarks addressed to Dr. Hogeboom were many of them of such a scurrilous nature that the JOURNAL excluded them. Dr. Hogeboom has no reason to explain his conduct in the matter. He took the right course, apparently.

IN THE SUPREME COURT.

The Harvey County Record Case Before the Court on Motions.

The state supreme court took up the May docket this morning at 9 o'clock. Very few attorneys were present and nearly all cases were submitted without argument on briefs.

Senator Ed O'Bryan of Wichita appeared and presented a bondman for George W. Rodgers, convicted of burning the records of Harvey county. The appeal bond had been fixed by the court at $5,000, and T. M. Lane of Cheney was offered. He was examined, but County Attorney C. E. Brannine of Harvey county and A. L. Green were present and objected to the bondman until his statements could be verified. They were granted the time asked. Senator O'Bryan also asked that the hearing which was set for the July term be passed, but this was also objected to.

An interesting civil case submitted this morning was that of the Chicago & Atchison Bridge company against the Kansas City packer, George Fowler. Bailey P. Waggoner appeared for the company and C. F. Hutchins for Fowler. Two attorneys were admitted to practice in the supreme court; C. E. Brannine county attorney of Harvey county, on motion of A. L. Green, and H. C. Dooley of Montgomery county, on motion of Attorney General Little.

OSBORN'S WILD WORDS.

The Secretary of State Carried Away by News of Coxey's Arrest.

Secretary of State Osborn said today relative to the arrest of Coxey and Browne:

"I know what the charge is. It is that this uprising of the people must be put down at any cost."

"I want to make a prediction," continued he warming up. "It is this: There will be no overt act until the next election; then, simultaneous with the returns, the flames will shoot up into the air from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and every palatial residence will be destroyed in this uprising of the people. Woe unto them then who have sought to stay this tide of the past six months."

"The farmers are preparing for this; they are selling a horse or a cow and buying Winchester, and many mechanics are doing the same."

What the Governor Said.
 When asked what he thought of Coxey's arrest Governor Lewelling said: "I think it is a serious mistake. It will however, have the effect of uniting the masses in a common cause."

MAD RIOTERS.

Cleveland Overrun With Unruly Crowds—People Panic Stricken.

CLEVELAND, O., May 1.—Seven thousand unemployed men paraded the streets today after listening to speeches in Monumental square. In the line were many unruly spirits. While on the central viaduct a motorman refused to stop his train while the procession passed and the mob attacked him and wrecked a car. Nearly one hundred shots were fired over another car which was compelled to stop. Several persons were knocked down during the march and others were injured by missiles thrown. On Pearl street another riotous scene occurred. A street car was totally wrecked by the mob and the motorman assaulted and perhaps fatally injured.

A policeman who was on board drew his revolver, but before it could be used the mob closed in on him and he received very rough handling. Pistols were fired in every direction. Many plate glass windows were smashed and a panic ensued in the crowded thoroughfare.

There were many narrow escapes, but fortunately no one was killed outright. The police who were early in the day massed in their various stations have been called out.

At the corner of Pearl street and Detroit streets a motorman refused to stop his car and was promptly knocked down by a brick. Further along a grocer wagon was overhauled and looted of its contents by the mob. On Superior street the leaders seemed to lose all control of the mob and for a time a riot seemed imminent. The crowd now numbered from seven to eight thousand, and the police seemed powerless to cope with them and offered little or no resistance.

A teamster was struck in the face with a heavy iron bolt and badly injured, because he could not get his team out of the way.

In Monumental park the marchers peacefully disbanded. Several thousand marched east on St. Clair street. It was supposed that they intended marching to the Backus wire nail works, where a strike is on, but the parade passed there without any outbreak.
